The answer is that love is "unconditional selflessness", BUT that is a truth we couldn't safely admit until we could explain the HUMAN CONDITION "explain WHY our human behaviour has often been so competitive, selfish and aggressive, so seemingly unloving. It follows then that the real issue behind the question of "what is love" has been the issue of the human condition.

In recent years, the Business History Conference has sprouted several interest groups that have coalesced around perceived needs. The first two, "Women in Business History" and "Business Historians at Business Schools," meet informally over lunch at the annual meeting to discuss issues in the profession and to network. The "Emerging Scholars" group began informally, but its leadership now ...

Jargon Scout is an irregular TBTF feature that aims to give you advance warning -- preferably before Wired magazine picks it up -- of jargon that is just about ready to hatch into the Net's language. Jargon Scout also invites your collusion in inventing the requisite jargon, in those cases in which the concept emerges before its consensus denomination.
